Introduction

In this clothes vocabulary game, students play battleships to practice clothes-related vocabulary.

Procedure

Give each student a copy of the worksheet.

Tell the students to keep their worksheet secret at all times.

Have the students draw the six clothes shapes (T-shirt, cap, shoe, trousers, shorts, hat) anywhere on the top grid of the worksheet.

Explain that the clothes shapes must not touch each other, but they can touch the sides of the grid.

Next, divide the students into pairs.

Have the students sit back to back so they can't see each other's worksheet.

Explain that the students are now going to play a game of battleships to find where their partner has drawn the clothes on their grid.

The students then take it in turns to call out coordinates, e.g. b 4.

If their partner says 'hit', the student shades the square in the bottom grid.

If their partner says 'miss', the student marks the square with a cross.

The first student to find all six articles of clothing wins the game.
